Bounty of Tasmania

Detailed expedition itinerary | Coral Discoverer | 13 days / 12 nights | Hobart round trip

Explore Tasmania's wilderness, coastal heritage, wildlife and regional food and wine on a small-ship voyage aboard Coral Discoverer. The intermediate destinations are listed by location rather than assigning unconfirmed day numbers.

Day 1: Depart Hobart

Begin your Tasmanian expedition in Hobart, where you board Coral Discoverer for a 12-night journey around the island. Settle into your stateroom, explore the ship and meet the expedition team and fellow passengers. As the voyage gets underway, enjoy the coastal scenery and look forward to discovering Tasmania's natural and cultural diversity.

Franklin & the Huon Valley

Travel into the beautiful Huon Valley, renowned for its fertile landscapes, apple-growing heritage and thriving food and wine industry. Discover the riverside community of Franklin, where traditional wooden boatbuilding remains an important part of local history. This picturesque region offers a quieter side of Tasmania and a strong connection to its agricultural traditions.

Port Davey & Bathurst Harbour

Few places capture Tasmania's wild character quite like Port Davey. Located within the Tasmanian Wilderness World Heritage Area, this extraordinary region is accessible only by sea, air or an extended wilderness walk. Cruise remote waterways framed by rugged mountains and ancient landscapes. Subject to conditions and permits, expedition activities may include Bathurst Harbour, guided walks, wildlife observation and tender excursions.

Stanley & Tasmania's Northwest Coast

Discover Stanley, a picturesque coastal town dominated by the distinctive volcanic formation known as The Nut. Explore its historic streets and coastal atmosphere, with opportunities to appreciate panoramic views across Bass Strait. Stanley combines maritime heritage, beautiful scenery and the character of a traditional Australian seaside community.

Devonport & Northern Tasmania

Explore Tasmania's northern coast, where fertile agricultural regions meet historic maritime communities. Devonport is an important gateway to northern Tasmania, and the surrounding region is known for productive farmland, coastal landscapes and regional food traditions. Discover another side of the island's history as the expedition moves towards its settled northern coastline.

Launceston & the Tamar Valley

Discover Launceston and the Tamar Valley, celebrated for historic architecture, vineyards and regional produce. The Tamar River provides a scenic approach to northern Tasmania's principal inland city. Depending on the confirmed excursion programme, guests may explore Launceston's heritage and experience some of the flavours that have helped establish Tasmania's culinary reputation.

Freycinet National Park

Tasmania's east coast is renowned for beautiful beaches, sheltered bays and striking granite mountains. At Freycinet National Park, discover the dramatic Hazards mountain range and the famous curved shoreline of Wineglass Bay. Depending on conditions, activities may include guided walks, coastal exploration and opportunities to enjoy the remarkable scenery.

Maria Island

Maria Island combines extraordinary wildlife, beautiful coastal landscapes and fascinating colonial history. During guided exploration, discover the historic Darlington settlement and learn about the island's convict heritage. Look for wombats, wallabies and native birdlife; the sandstone formations and coastal scenery offer excellent photographic opportunities.

Port Arthur & the Tasman Peninsula

Explore one of Australia's most significant historic destinations at Port Arthur, where the former penal settlement reveals an important and often confronting chapter of colonial history. The surrounding Tasman Peninsula is equally impressive, with towering sea cliffs, rugged headlands and dramatic coastal formations.

Day 13: Return to Hobart

Your expedition concludes in Hobart. After breakfast, farewell the Captain, expedition team and fellow passengers before disembarking and continuing your Tasmanian holiday or travelling home.

Important: This is an indicative itinerary. The sequence of destinations, shore excursions and activities may change according to weather, sea conditions, access requirements and Coral Expeditions' operational arrangements. Confirm final arrangements and inclusions before booking.
